

N.A.P.E. PRINT & DIGITAL ADVERTISING

The National Association of Power Engineers, Inc. is a national organization comprised of people in the field of power generation, HVAC, facility operation, maintenance, inspection, co-generation, process industries, commercial and residential buildings, government agencies, and design. We are a not-for-profit educational organization with chapters throughout the country. Organized in 1882, we are the oldest engineering association in the United States, offering education to benefit those in the engineering industry.

Our national print magazine, The National Engineer is distributed in a quarterly publication to our members, corporate members, and subscribers (your target audience!), and so are our monthly e-blasts. Our national website, www.powerengineers.com, receives traffic from this same significant audience as well, along with numerous other types of individuals from the overall engineering industry.

We have ad space available:

- In our magazine for partial & full-size page ads
- On our website for top/bottom & side column ads
- In our monthly e-blast for top/bottom or side ads

Find out about all available sizes, types, prices, & lengths below.
